BISMAROK AND THE EMPEROR. It is reported that Emperor William did not send a New Year's greeting to Bismarck. The omission, under the circumstances, was natural enough. The grandfather of the present monarch never failed to send such a greeting, and to receive a warm one in return from Bismarck. It was noted that the latter was not present at the recent ovation given to Von Moltke, but he sent a most affectionate greeting. It is not probable that delay and the defence was only a half. Bismarck will ever again enter upon public life. A great crisis in Germany might call him forth. Meteorologists will find an interesting and valuable contribution by Dr. Fritsche, on "the Amount of Precipitation (Rain and Snow) of Peking," showing the results of observations made at the Imperial Russian Observatory at Peking, from 1841 to 1880. "Notes on the Dutch Occupation of Formosa," by Mr. Geo. Phillips, contains some interesting information, although much of it is second-hand. The November-Docember number the China Review contains less variety than usual, but the few articles are very interesting: The opening paper by Mr Herbert A. Giles on "The New Testament in Chiness" treats of a question that must necessarily be of great importance in the eyes of all missionaries. Mr E. H. Parker's "Short Journeys in Szechuen" are continued, and a goodly instalment there travels in the interior of China is given. Mr F. H. Balfour contributes a paper of zome length entitled "The Emperor Cheng, founder of the Chinese Empire," which will be read with genuine Interest by students of Chinese history. A few short notices of New Books and a number of Notes and Queries, one of which "On Chinese Oaths in Western Eorneo and Java" might appropriately have been placed under a separate heading, complete the number. -H.K. Daily Press.

Trubner's Oriental Record contains the following notice of the China Review: The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, some what similar to that which has been filled in India by the Calcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked r from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs' corps, and the missionery body, among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated, and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors . . . Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese post-statesman of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowra. is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Review, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that 'Notes' and 'Queries' are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary real to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its predecessor in the field, and that the China Review may receive the support necessary to beure ita continuance.
